

The New York Times

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 2002

HOUSE & HOME

The New York Times

TABLEWARE

For Evenings That Sing Of the East

Feel the trade winds blowing. Flatware from Royal Pacific (right) was designed by Clark Wolf for the Royal Pacific Hotel and Resort at Universal Orlando in Florida. "Sometimes chopsticks just aren't enough," he said. The flatware, in 18/10 stainless steel, is $120 for a 20-piece set and is at Zabar's, 2245 Broadway (80th Street), (212) 787-2000; information also from Fortessa, (800) 296-7508.

Bamboo-inspired glassware, including a hand-blown vase, above, $70, and stacking glasses, $30, by Angelica Gustafsson for Skruf in Sweden, are available at Totem SoHo (83 Grand Street); (212) 219-2446.

Tony Cenicola/The New York Times

STEPHEN TREFFINGER